HANS J. WEGNER

DESCRIPTION

Hans J. Wegner's Dining Tables from 1962 is made of solid wood. With its inviting form and the possibility of expanding the seating, the table is suitable for both everyday use and for parties. The design is characterized by its finely processed elliptical table top and its elegant, tapered legs. The harmonious shape of the solid table top is one of the most eye-catching features, and with the wood's cross grains, one can hardly see the join between boards.

DESIGNER

Danish architect Hans J. Wegner (1914-2007) is considered a pioneering furniture designer of the twentieth century. Often referred to as the master of the chair, Wegner created almost 500 in his lifetime – many of them considered masterpieces. Wegner was part of the spectacular generation that created what is today referred to as 'the Golden Age' of modern Danish design. Almost all of the world's major design museums, from the Museum of Modern Art in New York and Designmuseum Danmark in Copenhagen to Die Neue Sammlung in Munich, exhibit his works.
